Chinese Scoff At Matsui's Prediction

ENGLISH ASSOCIATION MEETING

H.E. Sir Geoffrey Northcote Elected President

TRIBUTE PAID TO SIR WILLIAM HORNE

"The Importance of T. S. Eliot" was the title of a very interesting and suggestive paper read to the Hong Kong Branch of the English Association by Mr. K. W. Salter at the Helena May Institute yesterday afternoon.

By quotation and comparison Mr. Salter very ably established his contention that Eliot was an important force in contemporary English literature.

A discussion on Eliot's merits as a poet and essayist followed, in which divergent opinions were expressed by Rev. Fr. G. Byrne, Mr. D. J. Sloss (new Vice-Chancellor of the Hong Kong University), Prof. R. K. M. Simpson, Mr. W. L. Handyside and Mr. H. C. Macnamara.

The meeting inaugurated the 1937-1938 session of the Association and was largely attended. Those present were H.E. the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, K.C.M.G., Sir William Horne, (President for 1936-1937), Mr. K. W. Salter (Hon. Secretary and Treasurer), Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith and Miss Judith Smith, Hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, Hon. Mr. M. K. L. O. Mr. D. J. Sloss, Lady Pollock, Prof.

L. Forster, Prof. R. K. M. Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. M. Pöster, Mr. L. Handyside, Mr. H. C. Macnamara, Mr. G. P. de Martin, Mr. S. S. Whyte Smith, Mr. E. Russell, Fr. G. Byrne, Miss H. D. Sawyer and many others.

Sir Geoffrey Northcote was unanimously elected President for the coming year, and took the chair. Sir William Horne, the retiring President, in extending a hearty welcome to His Excellency, said that the Association could consider itself indeed fortunate to have Sir Geoffrey preside over its future activities and should under his influence progress from strength to strength.

JAPANESE TRYING TO CONSOLIDATE FOOTHOLD IN SOOCHOW CREEK BANK POSITION IS PRECARIOUS HEAVY RAIN IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, November 2: Heavy tropical rain which started at mid-day is swelling Soochow Creek and making the countryside a sea of mud playing in favour of the Chinese who scoff at the prediction of General Matsui, commander of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces in North China, that the Shanghai area would be cleared of Chinese troops by November 10. From an observation post in the British lines, Reuters correspondent this morning watched the Japanese trying to consolidate their foothold on the south bank of Soochow Creek but their position there is obviously precarious. Before they are able to push their drive southward the Japanese must build a bridge sufficiently strong for tanks and other mechanised units to cross. The process will be most difficult as each time the Japanese lay a smokescreen, a withering fusillade of machine-gun fire will pour in from three sides. Reuters correspondent saw the bodies of Japanese engineers, who had been trying to construct a pontoon bridge, floating down the river towards the sector held by the British.—Reuters.

Canton, November 2: Japanese planes repeated their attacks on Tongtowha, Sheungping and Wonglik stations on the Canton-Kowloon Railway respectively about 110, 85 and 80 kilometres south of Canton on two different occasions this morning.

Tongtowha station was raided by three bombers at 5.53 o'clock this morning when seven bombs were released. One of the missiles fell only about 10 metres from the railway bridge at which it was apparently aimed. A section of the track was damaged by the explosion.

Sheungping and Wonglik stations formed the objective of a second raid staged by three other planes at 1.28 o'clock this afternoon. Altogether six bombs were dropped, damaging sections of the track.—Central News.

Amoy, November 2: Amoy remains quiet although over twenty Japanese men-of-war are still patrolling off the Amoy harbour. It is stated that only a few days ago there were some thirty Japanese warships off the harbour and it is believed that a part of this fleet had departed for Formosa for refuelling and replenishing of ammunition.

Bombardment of Amoy and neighbouring ports will start afresh upon the return of these warships, according to a report emanating from a reliable source. Meanwhile the Japanese bluejackets that had landed on the Kumun Island are reported to have looted and massacred the natives there.—International News Agency.

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS AGAINST POLICE

Sensational Disclosures At Kowloon Inquest

"I WAS STRUCK WITH A TRUNCHEON" WITNESS TELLS COURT

"... I was placed in a small room where I was struck a number of blows by a constable with a truncheon on the right side, back and front. He held me down on the ground. I could not breathe freely."

This amazing statement was made by Wong Hop, stone cutter, when giving evidence at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday afternoon at an inquest into the death of a man, Chan Sun, who, according to Dr. Kok Cheung Yeo, of the Kowloon Public Mortuary, died as a result of rupture of the spleen. The deceased, said Dr. Yeo, also had three ribs on the left side of his body fractured.

Chan Sun, who had previously been in custody at the Sham-shui-po Police Station, where the alleged assault on both he and Wong Fat occurred, was dead upon admission to the Kwong Wah Hospital.

Mr. K. Keen sat as Coroner assisted by a jury comprised of Messrs. J. Reive (foreman), William Law and A. F. dos Remedios.

Police officers present in Court were—Mr. R. H. E. Marks, A.S.P. (Kowloon), Det.-Insp. A. E. Carey (representing the Police), and Inspector E. J. Ellis (representing the Secretariat for Chinese Affairs).

Mr. John Whyatt, Crown Solicitor, addressing the Court said: "I am representing the Inspector General of Police who is interested in this inquiry. The circumstances in which deceased met his death have been the subject of the most exhausting and extensive inquiries, but the only result is a mass of conflicting statements implicating in greater or lesser degree a number of different persons some of whom are subordinate police officers. The present position is unsatisfactory and the Inspector General is anxious that every relevant fact which can be discovered should be brought to light so that if possible the true facts concerning this man's death may be ascertained."

MEDICAL EVIDENCE

The first witness called was Dr. Kok Cheung Yeo, medical officer in charge of the Kowloon Mortuary who deposed to the post-mortem examination held on September 2 on the body of a Chinese male identified as Chan Sun, by P.C.C.44-Chan Chun and Det.-Sgt. Nolan.

RIBS FRACTURED

On external examination, witness found a bruise in the region of the seventh, eighth and ninth ribs on the left side of the body. Internally, the ribs mentioned were fractured. The lungs were not ruptured and the heart was normal. The spleen was enlarged about double the normal size, and was ruptured on the internal surface. The body was sent to the Public Mortuary from the Kwong Wah Hospital.

JAPANESE CONVOY ATTACKED

By Chinese Troops

Peiping, Nov. 2: A Japanese military communique alleges that a convoy of ten river boats taking three hundred Japanese wounded soldiers to Tientsin from Paoting was attacked by a force of several hundred Chinese troops using trench mortars and machine-guns near Hsingan on the morning of October 31. A detachment of the transport corps, accompanying the boats, landed and engaged the Chinese in a five-hour battle until relieved by reinforcements.

SPANISH WAR NEWS

Valencia, Nov. 2.

The Spanish Government have already started moving the seat of Government from Valencia to Barcelona. Cortes are also moving to Barcelona. Fleets of heavily laden lorries began an early journey to the new capital while transport are at present at a premium.

Insurgent warships are reported to be off the coast of Valencia which was plunged into darkness last night in order to lessen chances of a naval bombardment.—Reuters Bulletin Service.

from Paotingfu, Hsingan is only sixty miles southward of Peiping.—Reuters.

SINO-JAPANESE CONFLICT

RESOLUTION TO BE PASSED TO-MORROW

There will be a meeting of the League of Nations Society to-morrow at 5.30 in the Cathedral Hall to pass a resolution regarding the present Sino-Japanese Conflict. Dr. Montgomery, the Society's President, will be in the chair, and the motion will be proposed by Professor L. Forster and seconded by the Rev. K. Mackenzie Dow. All interested are invited to attend.

The Resolution is as follows.
THIS MEETING BELIEVING
In the efficacy of law over war in the solution of international disputes, and

DEPRECATING
The arbitrary use of military force to settle international differences,

NOTES

(a) The Report of the 8th October, 1937, submitted by the Drafting Committee of the Committee of Thirteen of the League of Nations, and

(b) Its finding that the Japanese hostilities on Chinese soil are inconsistent with the obligation of Japan to respect the sovereignty, independence and territorial integrity of China and with the obligation not to seek a solution of a dispute with China except by pacific means—and

(c) The recommendation that members of the League should refrain from taking any action which might have the effect of weakening China's power of resistance,

AND PLACES ON RECORD

(1) Its full support of that Report, and
(2) Its strong condemnation of the ruthless and indiscriminate bombing of civilian towns and villages of China.

DEATH OF FRENCH SENATOR

Paris, November 2: The death is announced of Senator Joseph Paganon who held ministerial appointments in six Cabinets.—Reuters.

CHINA COMMAND

Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble Appointed

The Admiralty announces that the King has approved the following appointment:—

Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, K.C.B., C.V.O., to be Commander-in-Chief, China, in succession to Admiral Sir Charles Little, K.C.B., and to assume command about April, 1938.

After the Home and Mediterranean Fleets, this is the most important of the commands afloat, and includes some 75 units of all types, among them the 5th Cruiser Squadron, 8th Destroyer Flotilla, 18 gunboats in the Yangtze and West rivers, and the 2nd Mine-sweeping Flotilla at Singapore. Sir Charles Little took up the command in January, 1936, as a vice-admiral, and was reappointed on his promotion to admiral in June last.

Sir Percy Noble will be 58 in January, and has just relinquished the post of Fourth Sea Lord. During the War he was commander in the cruisers Achilles and Courageous, and after promotion to captain in June, 1918, commanded the light cruiser Calliope, all in the Grand Fleet. He afterwards held two appointments as flag-captain and commanded the training establishments at Shotley and Gosport. In 1923-30 he was Director of the Operations Division, and during that time was promoted to flag rank. In 1931-32 he was Director of Naval Equipment, and in 1932-34 commanded the 2nd Cruiser Squadron in the Home Fleet.

The R. M. A. "Dorado" which arrived at 1.25 p.m. yesterday, carried only one passenger, Mr. Emmett, an American, of Penang. There were 8,200 kilos of freight on-board and 350,055 kilos of mail.

NAVAL WEDDING

MISS AUDREY STEEL MARRIES COMDR. BANKS

The marriage took place at All Souls, Langham Place, October 18, of Commander W. E. Banks, R.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Banks, of 12, Turner Close, Hampstead, and Miss Audrey Mabel Pringle Steel, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Steel, of Hong Kong. The Rev. H. Barnshaw-Smith officiated.

Commander B. Barry gave the bride away. Her dress of white lace was mounted over chiffon and had a short train. A Juliet cap of ivory silk cord held the tulle veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. She was attended by a small page—Christopher Willoughby—in a man-of-war suit, and a trainbearer—Elizabeth Ann Garwood—who was in a white tulle dress with a gold leaf bandeau. She carried a posy of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. There were also two bridesmaids—Miss Joan Banks (sister of the bridegroom) and Miss Beryl Lambert. Their dresses were of Coronation-blue faille worn with gold caps and veils, and they carried sheaves of mixed yellow flowers. Lieut. Commander Sherwood was best man, and the reception after the wedding was held at the Langham Hotel.

NEW HONG KONG STAMPS

The new Hong Kong George the Sixth stamps are being awaited most anxiously by the public, but the local Post Office authorities are not certain as to when they will arrive in the colony.

The Postmaster General, Mr. E. 1. Wynne-Jones, told "The Daily Press" yesterday that the Colonial Office had made no indication whatever as to when the new stamps are due.

Mr. Wynne-Jones explained that new stamps were being printed for the whole of the colonial empire and the magnitude of that task can be imagined. Each colony had such a large number of denominations of stamps, each of a different

Morale Of Chapei Defenders High

Hundreds of gallant Chinese soldiers who fought the Japanese in 1932, including members of the famous 10th Route Army who started and thrilled the world when they halted the Japanese advance, are again shouldering arms for their country, and stubbornly defending the same territory.

On a recent visit to Chapei, a number of foreign newspapermen, with the aid of an interpreter, freely conversed with many of the veterans. If there is any weakening of morale on the part of the defenders, the journalists failed to notice it. The troops, besides being strongly entrenched, are obviously well-fed, well-equipped and cheerful.

The correspondents witnessed Chinese anti-aircraft guns in action, and a raid by Chinese soldiers. They visited the trenches, entered and examined the new famous Administration Building at the North Station, and conducted a tour of the shell-hole and bomb-wrecked station itself.

All seemed in order on the Chapei Front.

STOOD HIS GROUND

A Stormy Story

Declaring that the only way the Japanese can drive him from his home is by burning it to the ground, Henry R. Storms, a Cali-fornian residing in Shanghai, stubbornly refuses to evacuate his premises in Range Road, despite the fact that it has been partly demolished by a Japanese shell.

Since the outbreak of hostilities in that area, Storms has witnessed many atrocities committed by the Japanese, and claims to have ac-tually seen more than a score of Chinese civilians shot down on the streets in the vicinity of his home.

He further declares that on August 23, a gang of more than 15 Japanese entered his home, and without so much as a "may I please," helped themselves to all that was movable. Storms, al-though alone and unarmed, pro-tested vigorously against this reckless looting of his property, and at long last succeeded in sav-ing at least a portion of it. The looters carried swords, canes and pistols, and apparently were given the freedom of Hongkew by the Japanese military.

Recently, when military restric-tions were lifted by the Japanese for a few days in order to enable those who had homes in Hongkew

RELIEF CAMPS

Safety Guarantee Sought

Some of the difficulties facing relief workers may be solved at Colonel C. E. de Wetteville, dele-gate of the International Red Cross Committee visiting Soochow, is hoping to secure a guarantee from the Japanese military that they will not bomb refugees at accredited Red Cross Centres.

"After completing his inspection of Red cross work in and around Soochow with a visit to the Head-quarters of the International Re-lief Committee, Colonel de Wetteville declared himself pleased and impressed with the work already in progress. In the course of his inspection, he said that he had come to realize the difficulties facing relief workers, and the im-portance of safety for refugee camps.

Facilities in the way of build-ings to house relief work were satisfactory, and the organization of Red Cross Hospitals as seen during his tour under the guidance of Dr. C. C. Kobhans Fang, general secretary of the Chinese Red Cross Society, were praised by the visiting delegate.

JAPANESE ATTEMPT TO ENCIRCLE SHANGHAI

Soochow Creek Fighting Is Heaviest Yet Seen

REINFORCEMENTS BEING RUSHED

SHANGHAI NOV. 2. DESPITE THE SEVEREST FIGHTING, LASTING ALL NIGHT LONG, WHICH GAVE RESIDENTS IN THE WESTERN DISTRICT ANOTHER DISTURBED NIGHT, THE TIGHTLY-KNIT NETWORK OF CHINESE MACHINE-GUN NESTS ALONG THE SOUTH BANK OF THE SOOCHOW CREEK CONTINUES TO BLOCK THE DESPERATE AND COSTLY ATTEMPT OF THE JAPANESE TROOPS TO ESTABLISH A FOOTHOLD ON THE SHORE OF THE WATERWAY FROM JESSFIELD PARK TO THE RUBICON.

Despite incessant pounding by heavy Japanese artillery, the Chinese defence works, although described by observers as hastily prepared, have been able hitherto to withstand the repeated assaults of the Japanese forces.

Meanwhile, the Japanese determination to complete the encirclement of Shanghai speedily and push the Chinese forces further westward is shown by reliable information that further reinforcements are being sent to Shanghai.

The liners “Nagasaki Maru” and “Shanghai Maru,” which run an express service usually between Kobe and Shanghai, have now been added to the large number of Japanese ships being used as transports.

The first fresh troops are leaving for Shanghai to-day. — Reuter.

500 JAPANESE CROSS

Heavy fighting in the west of Shanghai lasted throughout the whole of to-day with the Japanese adopting every possible means to try and force a crossing of the Soochow Creek.

Despite the strong support given by their artillery, only their advance guard succeeded in gaining a footing on the southern banks of the Creek. In the evening a Chinese communique stated that following repeated failures, about 500 Japanese troops crossed the Creek. The Chinese, however, are counter-attacking uninterruptedly.

In order to cut off the communications of the Chinese troops fighting in the Soochow Creek sector with the hinterland, the Japanese launched a large-scale attack on Tazang and Namtang Road to-day with the greatest number of tanks they have brought into use since the opening of the hostilities.

SETTLEMENT HOUSES SHAKEN

By order of the Chinese General Staff the Chinese troops were withdrawn a few hundred metres in order to co-ordinate the front lines. The Japanese suffered heavy losses but they have not been able to secure any strategic gains.

This battle on the Soochow Creek sector is described by foreign observers as the most intense in the present undeclared war. The house in the western district of the International Settlement were shaken all day long by the explosions of heavy shells, and several Japanese aeroplanes, flying very low over the International Settlement, were fired at by the British posts. — Transocean.

BRITAIN'S STAND AT BRUSSELS

Will Uphold Integrity Of China

London, Nov. 2. “Does the British Government at the Nine-Power Conference intend to stand upon the principle of the Nine-Power Treaty, namely the territorial integrity of China?” asked Mr. Attlee, winding up the debate in the House of Commons with a Labour motion of censure. Sir John Simon replied, “Yes, we do. Under the Nine-Power Treaty, each signatory pledges himself not to infringe the territorial integrity of China and agrees in the event of any breach of the Treaty to enter into consultation regarding the situation created. That is the reason why the Brussels Conference is being held. It is for the implementation of those undertakings that we are attending.”

Mr. Attlee asked whether the Government would make no alliance, agreement or arrangement with any other State that infringed the integrity of China.

Sir John Simon replied that he could not say anything further. “That is as far as I can go. It is as far as the United States had gone, and in this respect we find ourselves standing with the United States.” — Reuter.

GANDHI NOT IN GOOD HEALTH

Condition Regarded As Serious

Calcutta, Nov. 2. Mahatma Gandhi, who has received permission to see the Governor of Bengal to discuss the release of political prisoners and detainees, has postponed his departure from Calcutta owing to considerable rise in his blood pressure and the condition of his heart.

Indication that his condition is regarded seriously was given by the fact that members of the Congress Working Committee who were due to leave Calcutta to-night were asked to postpone their departure. — Reuter.

BRITAIN AND LEAGUE

Attack On Government's Policy

UNITED STATES RESPONSIBILITY

London, Nov. 1. Answering Opposition attacks in the House of Commons on the Government policy in connection with the League of Nations, particularly with reference to the Far East, Mr. Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, said to-day that the Government's assistants did not appreciate the position the United States occupied at Geneva and the position British occupies at Brussels.

Any action of whatever character depends essentially on the co-operation of the United States, he said. “In order to get full co-operation, on an equal basis, from the United States in an international conference, I would travel, not only from Geneva to Brussels, but from Melbourne to Alaska, particularly in the present state of international affairs,” said Mr. Eden.

The Opposition has asked whether in the Far Eastern situation Britain intends to go as far as the United States, not rushing in front and not being left behind.

“That is an accurate definition of our object,” replied the Foreign Secretary. “With the present world conditions we realise the difficulties of the Far Eastern situation. I go to Brussels anxious to contribute what little lies in my power in a situation in which nobody can envy a Foreign Secretary to-day.” — Reuter.

NURSES FOR WAR ZONE

Mr. A. Morris is in receipt of a cable from Peking to the effect that a party of 50 volunteer nurses and dressers has been organised there and is being despatched at an early date to join the volunteers from St. John who are already at Nanking and others who are on the point of being despatched. — Transocean.

GERMANY AND COLONIES

Mr. Eden's Pointed Remarks

London, Nov. 2. Replying to the debate on foreign affairs in the House of Commons to-day, Mr. Anthony Eden observed that recently a country, which itself is an outcome of the Great War, and had gained very considerable accessions of territory in Europe, and received certain territorial concessions in Africa from countries which were its allies in the Great War, now championed the claim of Germany to African possessions.

Mr. Eden said he did not desire to comment on the claim so far as Germany and Britain were concerned, but added: “We do not admit the right of any government to call upon us for a contribution when there is no evidence that that Government is prepared to make any contribution itself.” (Loud cheers.) — Reuter.

ROME'S ATTITUDE

Rome, Nov. 2. That Mr. Anthony Eden misunderstood Signor Benito Mussolini's speech was declared in political circles here this evening in regard to Mr. Eden's speech in the House of Commons.

The observers declared that if Duce was not making demands, but merely stating what, in his opinion, was indispensable for lasting peace.

The colonial question was not purely an Anglo-German or an Anglo-Franco-German question, but a European problem. It is considered a question of international justice.

Mr. Eden's reference to the advantages Italy had obtained under the peace treaties was received with some bitterness here, for it is one of Italy's complaints that she received so little from Versailles. — Reuter.

NAZIS ACQUITTED

Berne, Nov. 2. The Supreme Court of Switzerland has quashed the sentence passed by the Lower Court on two Nazi leaders who were charged with publishing articles in the press calculated to stir up Fascists against the Jews in Switzerland. — Reuter.

JAPANESE ATTEMPT TO ENCIRCLE SHANGHAI

Soochow Creek Fighting Is Heaviest Yet Seen

REINFORCEMENTS BEING RUSHED

SHANGHAI, NOV. 2.
DESPITE THE SEVEREST FIGHTING, LASTING ALL NIGHT
LONG, WHICH GAVE RESIDENTS IN THE WESTERN DISTRICT
ANOTHER DISTURBED NIGHT, THE TIGHTLY-KNIT NETWORK OF CHINESE MACHINE-GUN NESTS ALONG THE SOUTH BANK OF THE SOOCHOW CREEK CONTINUES TO BLOCK THE DE-SPERATE AND COSTLY ATTEMPT OF THE JAPANESE TROOPS TO ESTABLISH A FOOTHOLD ON THE SHORE OF THE WATER-WAY FROM JESSFIELD PARK TO THE RUBICON.

Despite incessant pounding by heavy Japanese artillery, the Chinese defence works, although described by observers as hastily prepared, have been able hitherto to withstand the repeated assaults of the Japanese forces.

Meanwhile, the Japanese determination to complete the encirclement of Shanghai speedily and push the Chinese forces further westward is shown by reliable information that further reinforcements are being sent to Shanghai.

The liners "Nagasaki Maru" and "Shanghai Maru," which run an express service usually between Kobe and Shanghai, have now been added to the large number of Japanese ships being used as transports.

The first fresh troops are leaving for Shanghai to-day. — Reuters.

500 JAPANESE CROSS.

Heavy fighting in the west of Shanghai lasted throughout the whole of to-day with the Japanese adopting every possible means to try and force a crossing of the Soochow Creek.

Despite the strong support given by their artillery, only their advance guard succeeded in gaining a footing on the southern banks of the Creek. In the evening a Chinese communiqué stated that following repeated failures, about 500 Japanese troops crossed the Creek. The Chinese, however, are counter-attacking uninterruptedly.

In order to cut off the communications of the Chinese troops fighting in the Soochow Creek sector, with the hinterland, the Japanese launched a large-scale attack on Tazang and Nanzhang Road to-day with the greatest number of tanks they have brought into use since the opening of the hostilities.

SETTLEMENT HOUSES SHAKEN
By order of the Chinese General Staff the Chinese troops were withdrawn a few hundred metres in order to co-ordinate the front lines. The Japanese suffered heavy losses but they have not been able to secure any strategical gains.

This battle on the Soochow Creek sector is described by foreign observers as the most intense in the present undeclared war. The house in the western district of the International Settlement were shaken all day long by the explosions of heavy shells, and several Japanese aeroplanes, flying very low over the International Settlement, were fired at by the British posts. — Transocean.

BRITAIN'S STAND AT BRUSSELS

Will Uphold Integrity Of China

LONDON, NOV. 2.
"Does the British Government intend to stand upon the principle of the Nine-Power Treaty, namely the territorial integrity of China?" asked Mr. Attlee, winding up the debate in the House of Commons with a Labour motion of censure. Sir John Simon replied, "Yes, we do. Under the Nine-Power Treaty, each signatory pledges himself not to infringe the territorial integrity of China and agrees in the event of any breach of the Treaty to enter into consultation regarding the situation created. That is the reason why the Brussels Conference is being held. It is for the implementation of those undertakings that we are attending."

Mr. Attlee asked whether the Government would make no alliance, agreement or arrangement with any other State that infringed the integrity of China.

Sir John Simon replied that he could not say anything further. "That is as far as I can go. It is as far as the United States had gone, and in this respect we find ourselves standing with the United States." — Reuters.

Attack On Government's Policy

UNITED STATES' RESPONSIBILITY

LONDON, NOV. 1.
Answering Opposition attacks in the House of Commons on the Government policy in connection with the League of Nations, particularly with reference to the Far East, Mr. Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary said to-day that the Government's assailants did not appreciate the position the United States occupied at Geneva, and the position Britain occupies at Brussels.

ROYAL NAVY

LAUNCH OF THE GLOUCESTER

The Duchess of Gloucester performed the naming ceremony at the launch of H.M.S. Gloucester at Devonport Dockyard on Oct. 19. The Admiralty was represented by the Second Sea Lord, Admiral Sir Martin Dunbar-Nasmith, V.C., the Parliamentary Secretary, Mr. Geoffrey Shakespeare, and the Civil Lord, Colonel J. J. Llewellyn. The Gloucester is the eighth and last of the cruisers of the Southampton type, built under the programmes of 1933-35. Her displacement will be 9,300 tons, the speed about 32 knots, and the main armament 12 6in. guns. Four ships of the class are already completed and serving in the Home Fleet. The other four are intended for service abroad, the first of them, H.M.S. Birmingham, going to China.

Eight previous ships of the Navy have been named the Gloucester. The first was built in 1654, during the Commonwealth, and was probably so named to commemorate the stout resistance of the City of Gloucester to the royalist troops. She was present at Solebay and several other actions of the Dutch Wars. The fourth ship of the name took part in Anson's voyage of circumnavigation in 1740-42, and her successor served under Hawke off Ushant in 1747. The last Gloucester, launched on the Clyde in 1910, was commanded by Captain Howard Kelly in the chase of the Goeben and Breslau in the Mediterranean in 1914, and by Captain W. F. Blunt at the battle of Jutland in 1916. Later in the War she served in the Adriatic, and was scrapped in 1921.

UNIVERSITY ENGINEERS

Commander (E) Clement Ellis has been appointed to H.M.S. Victory, additional for duty with acting sub-lieutenants (E) entered from the universities, under the scheme announced in "The Times" on May 6 last. These officers are to undergo a two-months' course in naval discipline and routine, and are then to be appointed to capital ships and cruisers of the Home and Mediterranean Fleet for nine months, during which they will be required to obtain a watch-keeping certificate. Commander Ellis, who has recently been serving in H.M.S. Queen Elizabeth, has been associated with the training of naval cadets in the Frobenius and at Keyham College.

COMMAND OF THE SYRINGA

Lieutenant-Commander E. W. E. Lane took command on October 19, of H.M.S. Syringa in the 6th Minesweeping Flotilla, Portland, in succession to Lieut.-Comdr. C. Y. Green, appointed to the cruiser Carlisle in reserve at Devonport.

ADDITIONAL SERVICE

The quota system for extensions of service will remain suspended until March 31 to allow for an unlimited number of soldiers extending their service. The scheme for the rejoining of reservists now in force is experimental. The applications under the scheme number 3,500.

STUDY OF RUSSIAN

It is proposed to hold a three months' preliminary course of instruction in Russian at the School of Slavonic and East European Studies, University of London. The course will begin in January, and applications to attend should be made to the War Office by November 1. Officers selected from those who qualify at the course will be sent abroad for nine months' study with a view to obtaining 1st Class Interpretships.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

AIR COMMODORE BOWEN

The retirement is announced, at his own request, of Air Commodore J. B. Bowen, C.B.E., the senior officer of his rank on the active list, and for four years up to April last Director of the Signals Branch at the Air Ministry.

The senior air commodore is now C. B. Breese, C.B., A.F.C., commodore is now C. D. Breese, C.B., A.F.C., commanding No. 17 (Training) Group, Lee-on-Solent, Coastal Command.

WORK ON AERODROMES

A new order directs that during the periods when grass-cutting or other works services, involving the use of carts, tractors, or mowers are in progress at R.A.F. stations, C.O.s are to ensure that an adequate portion of the aerodrome is left clear for landing. The operation of such vehicles over a part of an aerodrome is to be reported by signal.

HEALTH RETURNS

The return showing the number of cases of notifiable diseases which have been notified as having occurred in the Colony during the week ended on Saturday, at midnight, discloses that there were five cases of cholera (one imported) of which four were fatal; 12 of diphtheria (one imported) of which five were fatal; 12 of enteric fever (one imported) of which six were fatal; three of measles; one of chicken pox; one of cerebro-spinal fever; (one death); 35 of dysentery (two imported) of which eight were fatal; and 104 deaths from tuberculosis.

Five cases of dysentery (one imported), two of enteric fever and one of diphtheria were reported to the local Health Authorities during the 24 hours ended at midnight on Monday.

Sir Miles Lampson

Sir Miles Lampson (His Majesty's Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at Cairo) had the honour of being received by The King, when His Majesty invested him with the insignia of a Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Sir Miles and Lady Lampson subsequently had the honour of being invited to luncheon with The King and Queen.

RAINFALL FIGURES

The monthly rainfall report for October, issued by the Acting Superintendent of the Botanic and Forestry Department shows that the maximum number of inches of rain recorded in the Botanic Gardens was .91 inch, the reading being taken at 10 a.m. on October 4. There were 26 fine days during the month.

REFUGEES FUND

The Chairman of the Shanghai Refugees Committee acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the sum of $315.00 from Mr. Percy Gaunt of London, late of Shanghai, as a contribution to the Shanghai Refugees Welfare Fund.

CHIEF JUSTICE'S NIECE HERE

A charming arrival in the Colony yesterday was Miss Mary MacGregor Ross, niece of His Honour the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, and Lady MacGregor, who came in on the P. and O. s.s. Tania. Miss Ross is in the Far East for the first time and it is understood she will spend the winter here with Sir Atholl and Lady MacGregor.

Tall, graceful, and possessed of a pleasing charm, Miss Ross likes what she has seen of Hong Kong and looks forward confidently to thoroughly enjoying her stay here.

M.V. "YANAWAI"

Sea trials of an interesting vessel took place on Friday, October 23. This was the twin-screw motor vessel "Yanawai," built by the Talkoo Dockyard and Engineering Co. of Hong Kong, Ltd. for Messrs. Burns, Phillip & Co. (South Seas) Ltd.

The vessel's dimensions are 150'0" x 28'0" x 9'3" moulded, is single deck type with raised forecastle and long superstructures aft. Two large cargo hatches are served by five derricks operated by electric winches and can handle lifts up to 8 tons. Accommodation for 12 first class passengers is arranged in six staterooms aft and the vessel has a large dining saloon and smoking room. Officers and engineers are accommodated aft and the crew quartered in forecastle. Electric windlass is fitted on forecastle deck for operating stockless anchors. Vessel has been built to Lloyd's under special survey and to the latest B.O.T. requirements.

The trial was in every way satisfactory, a speed of over 10 knots being obtained. Mr. A. Corrigan, Owners' Superintendent, was in attendance.

LOCALLY MADE ENGINES

Of particular interest to Hong Kong is the fact that the main Diesel engines are the first to be built locally for a deep sea vessel. These were manufactured in entirety at Talkoo Dockyard under a special licence from Messrs. Sulzer Bros. Ltd. of Winterthur, and are the direct results of the very successful results obtained from the "Talkoo Cheong" built last year at Talkoo and engine with a similar engine.

It may be mentioned that this latter vessel is at present working in the harbour with great success. As a result Talkoo Dockyard have on hand other orders for these "Talkoo Sulzer" engines.

The "Yanawai" has twin four-cylinder, single-acting, two-stroke, solid injection engines, developing 200 B.H.P. at 330 rev. per minute. Circulating fresh water, bilge, salt-water, lubricating oil, and scavenge pumps, and compressors are all driven by the main engines, whilst auxiliary pumps and compressors are electrically driven by current supplied by two solid injection, three cylinder "Ruston" oil engines of 40 B.H.P. each at 800 R.P.M.

Of particular interest to marine engineers is the ease in which the

The following forthcoming weddings are announced:—

Mr. Chan Yuk Sing, merchant, of No. 1 Castle Road, first floor, and Miss Au Yeung Foon Lin, of No. 14 Ching Lin Terrace.

Mr. Chu Wan To, merchant, of No. 45 Lee Yuen Street, ground floor, and Miss Yue Yuet Mei, of No. 181 Wuhu Street, first floor.

These controls are so arranged that it is possible when the engine is running in any direction, to bring the reversing lever full over to the position for running in the opposite direction without any danger of damage to the engine. The starting air acts against the main pistons to arrest their movements and so accelerates the reversing process.

HONG KONG, NOVEMBER 3, 1937.

THE DOOMED CONFERENCE

It is significant and symptomatic that before the delegates have actually taken their seats at the Nine Powers Treaty Conference table in Brussels that Italy has intimated her willingness to join with Germany and Japan in a pact against Communism. Put in positive language it amounts to an agreement to stand united for Fascism, Nazism and Imperialism against the Popular Front.

This sabre-rattling challenge to the Democracies of the world would be humorous but for the fact that it is well known that even fools have to be taken seriously sometimes when there is a likelihood of their making mischief.

China has striven for peace as no other nation, with the notable exception of Britain. Every nation in the world has appreciated the genuineness and righteousness of her plea and every nation has sincerely respected it, with the glaring exception of militaristically maniacal Japan. Now Japan, a nation whose perfidious conduct in the matter of treaties, agreements and pledges, has become nauseatingly notorious, pledges her word to support two dictatorships in Europe and those dragoned nations have given a reciprocal undertaking. Thus, within the space of a few hours has the international situation been entirely altered, and altered for the dismal worse.

Once again it is left to Britain to take the lead, supported, it is devoutly to be hoped, by the United States of America, France and Russia, and not one of these great nations is mean enough to want war.

It is worth noting at this stage that every nation which is governed according to a liberal constitution has proved its earnestness in the cause of peace, whilst every nation governed by the policies of imperialism and dictatorship has perpetrated provocative acts calculated to stir up strife. As nations get the governments they deserve, so it is within the power of each people to expel their puppet whom they have armed with authority. Millions are craving for emancipation. The pity of it is that competent leaders endowed with the requisite courage are lacking—or, on the surface, seem to be. Perhaps in this connection the conference in Brussels will not be entirely abortive if frankness characterises its deliberations and fearlessness its recommendations.

But at this juncture it is reasonable to say quite frankly that the conference is doomed. The alpha and omega of the matter is epitomised in the official pronouncement of the Japanese Government to the effect that it will not "tolerate any interference by foreign Powers in the Sino-Japanese situation." China, on the other hand, has clearly intimated that she is willing to accept the proper mediation of foreign Powers, thereby demonstrating her honesty of purpose in Far Eastern affairs.

For our part we feel, we are echoing the sentiments of liberal minded people when we declare that the great masses of the world are heartily sick and tired of all the ridiculous goose-stepping, flag-flapping nonsense which has given so much "free copy" to directors of amusement concerns during the past few months. Its very childishness is pitiable. How grown men in their sober senses can willfully make such fools of themselves is absolutely incomprehensible.

Apparently the tolerance of the liberal nations of the world in regard to the goose-stepping flag-flappers has given those masters of burlesque the impression that they are awfully awe-inspiring fellows that they have scared the world stiff.

Any stiffness occasioned by them has been on account of laughter.

Perhaps this doomed conference in Brussels will bring the whole international mess-up to a head. We hope so. The sooner the present most unsatisfactory position in the Far East and in Europe is straightened-out the better. The world is sickening through lack of security.

PHYSICAL FITNESS AND MORAL IDEALS

The Prime Minister, when he spoke in Manchester recently, found his text in the familiar issue of Liberty and Authority. Nothing distinguishes nations more sharply than the ratio in which these respective principles divide the control of life. Whole peoples, as Mr. Chamberlain said, "have willingly given up their liberty in order to secure efficiency." Half of Europe has become convinced that the two things are incompatible, and in the other half there are many open minds. It is admittedly the chief question that awaits an answer from this age—whether security and prosperity can be as well attained by the

JAPANESE FIRE ON DUMMIES

Clever Ruse Angers Enemy

Thousands of machine-gun and rifle bullets, several hand grenades and other death-dealing missiles were wasted by Japanese armed forces at Range Road in Shanghai, as the result of a clever ruse on the part of an ingenious Chinese soldier.

The incident took place directly in front of the Pantheon Theatre, a district until recently held by the Chinese. When the Japanese attempted to oust the defenders entrenched behind a sandbag and barbed-wire barricade there, a Chinese soldier rigged up three "dummy" soldiers and by means of ropes contrived to constantly move them so effectively that the Japanese were completely fooled. Meanwhile his comrades withdrew to a second barricade some one hundred feet away to watch results.

JAPANESE AROUSED

For two hours the Japanese poured rifle and machine-gun fire on the deserted barricade, but the "dummy" soldiers held their own. Thoroughly aroused, the Japanese then detailed 30 men to launch an individual attack, but they were driven back by withering machine-gun fire from the second Chinese barricade. Four were killed and seven wounded.

Shortly afterwards a second attack was launched with the same results.

Angered by their failure, the Japanese then decided to conduct the third raid under cover of night. Creeping stealthily, three Japanese marines approached within grenade-throwing distance of the barricade, and succeeded in partially destroying it.

Triumphant at last, the marines rushed the barricade, only to find it deserted except for three lifeless dummies. The chagrin of the attackers is causing the instigator of the plot many a chuckle to-day!

DOG LET OUT

Captain Yates, residing at No. 4, Humphreys Building, was fined $15 by Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday for allowing his bulldog to be seen in Carnarvon Road on October 14 without lead or muzzle.

Two traffic accidents were reported to the police on Monday. Sub-Inspector Edwards states he knocked down Leung Ching, 58, at Connaught Road Central as the man was trying to run across the road. He was taken to the Queen Mary Hospital.

corporate action of free men as by a ruler who has taken over from them the right and burden of decision.

Britain is regarded by the world in general as the test case. It is the State in which the principle of voluntary action is most ingrained, and it is the community whose safety and wealth are most conspicuously exposed to new hazards by the emergence of Air Power and other factors. Our whole disposition leans to giving freedom and spontaneity the fullest play, both in personal life and in industrial enterprise. The success of that method depends on whether the citizen will of his own accord perform the service which is obtained elsewhere by compulsion, and whether trades and industries will adapt themselves to the ends of common prosperity as effectively as under the centralised measures of dictatorship.

The test of whether spontaneous patriotism and public spirit exist in our democracy to a sufficient degree, confronts us here and now. We do not require a gigantic Army upon the scale of the Great War, because the strategic conditions have wholly changed. But we need a sufficiency of trained men for combatant service, and in the case of the Army and the Territorial Force we are a long way short of having them. If "liberty" proves to be all but universally interpreted as the right to throw the protection of home and country on someone else's shoulders, the voluntary system is left without a leg to stand on.

WHILE HIS COMRADES MOURNED

"Dead" Squadron Leader Returns

On October 12, six planes set out from Nanking to bomb the Japanese positions at Tanqu, North China. Only five got there. The squadron leader, Major Sun Tung-kang lost his propeller in mid-air and unable to continue, he saluted his comrades and went down. The newspapers chronicled the heroic death of one of China's best pilots.

On October 18, Major Sun reported for duty, but instead of bringing his plane, he brought a fine Alredale terrier and a story of vicissitudes.

WHAT HAPPENED

It seems that when the propeller broke, Major Sun and his bomber decided to try and save the plane instead of bailing out with their parachutes, and by means of gliding succeeded in making a perfect land. Fully expecting to fall into the hands of the Japanese, the two airmen were very relieved to find that the only witnesses of their landing were two Chinese peasants and a number of fishermen, who viewed them with some suspicion. The reason for their attitude, Major Sun explained, was because these simple country folk had never seen the uniform of airmen before, and took them to be Japanese. Consequently a long argument ensued in which the countrymen held stubbornly to the view that no self-respecting Chinese ever wore such strange garments!

Fortunately for the two airmen, a detachment of Chinese coastal guards arrived when the argument showed signs of becoming ugly, and these men were able to convince the peasants that Major Sun and his companion were indeed in the service of China.

AIRMAN TAKES COMMAND

The coastal guards comprised some 200, led by a captain, and were heading south. They had evacuated a northern port when the Japanese took possession, and their leader had deserted them to serve the enemy they said. Some were accompanied by their wives and children, to say nothing about an Alredale terrier, which later became the protégé of Major Sun. The guards had no definite plans, neither did they have any money or food. They were clad in thin cotton uniforms despite the cold, so when Major Sun promised them work, food, warm clothing and a hearty welcome in his native province, they fell under his command readily. But before marching off, Major Sun left instructions with the curious peasants to take good care of his plane, as he would shortly be returning for it. In the event that the Japanese came first, however, they were to set fire to it.

ENCOUNTER HARDSHIPS

During the journey to the provincial border which was their destination, the party encountered many hardships. Heavy rains fell, turning the surrounding countryside into a muddy lake. For twenty-four hours they waded through it—shivering, hungry, but still hopeful. During the day they were compelled to go into hiding as Japanese snipers were rife in the vicinity, and at night when they resumed their march, they had the searchlights from forty Japanese gunboats along the coast to contend with.

However, luck was with them and they arrived at their destination safely, where Major Sun fulfilled all his promises to the men and arranged to have them incorporated in the frontier guards. To show their gratitude, the guards volunteered to return to their original base to help recapture it for China.

TRAIN BOMBED

Major Sun then boarded a train for Nanking, but his adventures did not end there. During the journey the train was subjected to bombing. Two passenger coaches suffered as a consequence, but owing to the locomotive being spared, the train was eventually able to proceed on its way.

Arrived at his headquarters base, Major Sun said: "We are all prepared to worry the life out of the enemy all along the coast, but I haven't had a bath and haven't changed my shirt for days, so I'll remedy that little matter first. We've got to be clean to make a clean job of it." With this facetious remark he left headquarters closely followed by his newly acquired canine pet.

THE JEAN WEEMS INCIDENT

London, Nov. 2.
Asked in the House of Commons for a statement regarding the bombing and sinking of the s.s. Jean Weems, Mr. Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, stated that the British Ambassador at Hendaye had already lodged a strong protest with the insurgent authorities, who have undertaken at once to make a most searching inquiry, and the British Consul at Barcelona had been instructed to submit a full report concerning the incident.

Meanwhile, the British Government was establishing contact with the French Government with a view to considering arrangements to strengthen measures against air attack now in force under the Nyon Agreement.

Mr. Eden was asked whether this case of piracy was typical of what was intended. He replied that it was exactly how he should regard it on his present information.

GENERAL CHU

Shanghai, Nov. 2: General Chu Yao-hua, a divisional commander, who was seriously wounded in attempting to commit suicide on October 23 for the fall of Tazang, is not yet out of danger, according to a hospital report.

The bullet which penetrated his ribs has been extracted but there are still bits of a broken bone lodged in between the ribs and a broken blood vessel in his chest has not yet been successfully closed up, the report states.

It has now been revealed that two regimental commanders Col. Chin Yan and Col. Pang Han-chen and one battalion commander Col. Hsieh Ting-hsin were killed during the bloody engagements in the Kwangtu and Chenchiaohong sectors in the latter part of October.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE BROADCASTS

B.B.C. Arrangements

London, Nov. 2.
Arrangements for BBC broadcasting to be made in foreign languages were announced by Sir John Simon, the Home Secretary in the House of Commons to-day. He recalled that the Ulster Broadcasting Committee recommended that the appropriate use of languages other than English should be encouraged, and enquiries made since by British representatives abroad had led to the conclusion that broadcasts from England would be welcomed, particularly in Spanish and Portuguese, by listeners in South American countries, and in Arabic by listeners in the Near East.

Replying to a question, Sir John Simon said that German, Italian and other languages would not be excluded, but a beginning would be made in the three languages mentioned.

The B.B.C., fully realising the importance of the issues involved, had been examining the problem for some time, and made it clear that if the Government decided to take action on the lines of the Ulsterwater recommendations, it was desirable for the Corporation to undertake to provide a satisfactory service as speedily as possible. The Government had now requested the Corporation to take action.

It had been agreed that nothing should be done to prejudice the existing Empire services. New transmitters would be needed, and until they were constructed and brought into use, only a limited service would be possible. Details would be announced shortly, it was added.

Ching Yat-long, lorry driver, reports that he had a similar accident in Des Vaux Road near the Naval Depot. The victim was Chan Pui, 54, who was taken to the Queen Mary Hospital with scalp injuries.

SEEKING FURTHER SUPPORT CHINA'S CASE AT BRUSSELS

Berlin, Nov. 2: General Chang Kai-shek who proceeds to Brussels to-morrow to attend the Far East Conference as an observer is drafting a telegram to President Roosevelt asking for further support of China's case.

General Chang opined that from yesterday's speech in the House of Commons, Mr. Eden, the Foreign Secretary, was evidently looking to America to take the initiative.

General Chang, who is on a goodwill mission, will return to Germany where he will stay for several months and will probably be received by the Chancellor, Herr Adolf Hitler, Marshal von Blomberg and others.

JAPANESE LAY MINES

On Chinmen Island

Amoy, Nov. 2: To prevent a counter-attack by the Chinese forces on Chinmen Island which they recently forcibly occupied the Japanese have laid mines at all strategic positions. It is reliably learned.

An airfield, it is stated, has also been built on the island by the Japanese to facilitate the landing of their planes.

Altogether 11 Japanese warships are still anchored outside the Amoy harbour.

GIRLS DONATE "COMFORT" GIFTS

Pangpu, Nov. 2: Local sing-song girls have jointly contributed funds for the purchase of shoes and stockings to the Chinese soldiers fighting at the front as "comfort" gifts.

DEATH OF MRS. WU LIEN-TEH

Chinese Authoress

Peking, Nov. 2: The death has occurred of Mrs. Wu Lien-teh, the wife of Dr. Wu Lien-teh, Director-General of the Chinese National Quarantine Service and plague prevention expert. Mrs. Wu passed away after a long illness. She was a well-known Chinese authoress.

$17,000,000 BONDS

For Readjustment Of Kwangsi Currency

Nanking, Nov. 2: The Executive Yuan to-day adopted the proposal submitted by Dr. H. H. Kung, the Minister of Finance, to float a $17,000,000 Kwangsi Currency Readjustment Bonds for the re-organization of the monetary system in that province.

It was also decided to appropriate $1,200,000 from the Salt Tax in Kwangsi each year as an endowment fund for the bond issue.

Beginning December 1 the rate will be fixed at $1 Kwangsi Provincial note to be exchanged for 50 cents national currency.

A set of regulations for the redemption of the bonds and interest rates was also adopted.

JAPANESE PLANES FAIL TO RAID NANKING

Nanking, Nov. 2: The air raid siren was sounded here at 9.30 o'clock this morning when it was reported that a number of Japanese planes were sighted at Chinan heading for the capital. Chinese pursuit planes immediately took to the air to engage the invaders. However, the Japanese planes, on seeing the Chinese planes, turned back and flew towards the direction of Shanghai. The all-clear signal was given half an hour later.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

London, Nov. 2: The results of Municipal elections in England and Wales show, with few exceptions, that control of the Councils remains unchanged. Conservatives on the whole gained thirty-six seats though they lost the London seat. The Independent party's seats increased by seven while Labour lost fifteen and the Liberals twenty-eight.

RHEUMATISM RESEARCH

Into Causes And Treatment

London, Nov. 2: The Rheumatism Council is planning a seven years research into the causes and treatment of rheumatism.

Lord Horder in making this announcement said that rheumatism, though one of the oldest problems known, has been gravely neglected. Investigation made by the Ministry of Health in 1922 relating to persons under the National Health Insurance Act showed that rheumatic disease was probably responsible for 16 per cent of the total of industrial morbidity in England and Wales and that during the course of the year about 372,600 insured persons sought medical advice because of some form of rheumatic disease. To that figure had to be added many sufferers outside the insured class.

When the research had discovered the causes he added that it would mean not merely cure but what was more important prevention. They would investigate simultaneously existing treatments and any new ones that gave hope of promise. The problems of infection, of bio-chemistry, of diet living and working conditions of all would be provided.

BRUSSELS CONFERENCE

AND WHAT IT STANDS FOR

London, Nov. 2: "If there be any hope for a speedy return to reason in the Far East," says The "Times" in a special article, "the east and west alike must be clearly aware of what the Brussels Conference stands for."

"It is not a judicial tribunal set up with punitive functions. It is a gathering of responsible Powers, some of which are deeply concerned with life in the Far East. They meet to consider what concerted diplomatic action may conduce the restoration of peace."

"The outbreak of the hostilities in China came within the terms of the Nine-Power Treaty and the League Assembly took practical steps to refer it to the signatories of that treaty. Nothing could have been less like League than the interference with which the rulers of Japan sought to prejudice this mediatory approach in the eyes of their people."

"President Roosevelt's memorable declaration in Chicago added enormous weight to the scope of the procedure recommended by the League, but did not vary in its purpose. President Roosevelt left no doubt as to his aims—they were identical with the British."

"The presence of the United States at Brussels is a fact of inestimable worth and may be taken as axiomatic American participation in the work."

"The Conference has made every stage and every step most complete, there being response from British representatives and the Government and the people behind them. This is a united front which must not be impaired or obstructed by any doubt or hesitation whatsoever."

"The west as well as Japan, sees that the stability of the Far East depends primarily upon the right of relations between the two races primarily concerned, and does not see that stability in the senseless antagonism of one by the other as in the overbearing contemptuous treatment of Chinese as permanent political inferiors. It only to be the abject bondmen of puppet governments."

"It discerns no security in the exposure of Japan to the sure contingencies of a Chinese revolt, and the financial drain in the long wars such as, if mediation fails, the present campaign may yet become."

F. E. WOOLLEY

Famous Cricketer Retiring

London, Nov. 2:

Kent County Cricket Council declared to-day that Frank E. Woolley, the famous England and Kent batsman is retiring after one more season with the Kent team. He holds the unrivalled record of playing in fifty-two Tests, twenty-nine of which were against Australia.

Born on May 27, 1887, Woolley has played in Test cricket against Australia in 1909, 11, 12, 20, 21, 24, 25, 26, 30 and 1934 and against South Africa in 1909, 10, 12, 13, 14, 22, 23, 24 and 1929.

Playing for England against South Africa at Manchester in 1929 Woolley partnered by R. E. S. Wyatt, took part in a record third wicket partnership which yielded 245 runs. Against Australia, Woolley partnered by J. Vane, put on 143 runs for the seventh wicket at Sydney in 1911.

Woolley has scored two centuries against Australia both at Sydney and three against South Africa the highest of which was 150 scored at Manchester in 1929.

HUGE FIRE AT ROTTERDAM

Rotterdam, Nov. 2: A monster conflagration that broke out on Sunday night in the Rhine harbour burned itself out in the course of yesterday afternoon after it had totally consumed four huge warehouses and several large oil tanks.

The blaze started in the Java warehouse and, fanned by a strong wind, spread rapidly and defeated the efforts of the city's combined fire brigades and fire-floats.

A block of warehouses, 100 metres by 50, was completely gutted and huge quantities of tobacco, coffee and oil, valued at several million guilden, destroyed.

The warehouses of the Holland-Amerika Line were only saved after a stiff battle.

Liners in the vicinity hurriedly cast off their moorings and moved to mid-stream to escape the showers of sparks from the blaze. Most of the insurance of the warehouses was carried by Lloyd's.

TIN STOCKS

Falling To Show Expected Increase

London, Nov. 2: With visible tin stocks in October falling to show the expected increase of 2,000 to 3,000 tons, the "Financial News" thinks it is unlikely that world stocks at the end of the year will total 28,000 tons which the paper opines was the figure as envisaged by the International Tin Committee when it announced its tentative decision to reduce the quota to 85 per cent for the first quarter in 1938. October statistics appear certain to increase the opposition to cut the quota and, the paper adds, may conceivably alter the Committee's views.

It is a moot point whether the stock figure of 28,000 tons on December 31 would not be excessive with consumption at the present rate especially, as the time lag between change of production and change of stocks would mean probable increase in the latter during the first two months in 1938, despite the quota cut.

October figures, therefore, had increased the Committee's difficulties and perhaps made some type of buffer stock more probable.

IN RETROSPECT

F. K. Lee's Grand Return To Local Cricket

BY "THE CRITIC"

Pride of place in sporting achievements over the week-end must be given to the all-round feat of F. K. Lee, Craigsower Cricket Club first eleven cricketer, in the friendly game with the Kowloon Cricket Club at Happy Valley. Put on as fourth (and last) change bowler, Lee got rid of Donald Anderson, who was then well set with over 50 to his credit, went on to take five more wickets, including the hat-trick, and all at the cost of one run! Then, opening the Craigsower innings, he batted in magnificent form, scoring 89 runs out of the total of 172 which the Valley team eventually reached. A very fine all-round performance indeed.

For the C.C.C. juniors, whose win over the Police was closer than the scores indicated, young W. Rapley also had a fine afternoon. He, too, scored 89 runs, remained undefeated when the closure was applied at 181 for six wickets, and took 2 wickets for only 4 runs.

S. A. Hussain beat his brother S. S. in straight sets in the Singles Final of the Kowloon Indian Tennis Club tournament on Saturday. There was not very much to enthuse over in the game except the keenness which both winner and loser showed. Personally I was more interested in the play of Lieutenant Misra, who, though not exactly a class player, possesses an original and effective style.

Several hat-tricks were recorded by footballers in the matches played on Saturday. Hau Ching-to (Eastern) scored four goals against the Club, Dunnichie (Seaforts) three against Kowloon Chinese, in the First Division; S. Smith (5th Brigade R.A.) three versus the Club, Izard (Middlesex Regt.) three against the English Engineers, and A. Bromley (Signals) three against the Kumaon Rifles. On every occasion the sharpshooter was on the side of the winning team.

A game much different in spirit from most League encounters was the football match between the European Press and the Hong Kong Electric Company, played on Sunday and won by the Gentlemen of the Press by the odd goal in three.

An interesting member of the 8th Heavy Brigade R.A., stationed at Lyemun, is Roy Norman, who enlisted three years ago. Previous to that Norman was well-known in Tientsin as an aquatic star, and in 1934 he caused a major sensation when he beat Wilfred Lawrence in the 440 and 880 yards free-style events in the Triangular Interport held in Shanghai.

Probably the two strongest batting sides in the Colony, Hong Kong Cricket Club, and Kowloon Cricket Club both had the mortification of seeing five of their batsmen making "ducks" on Saturday, against the Indian Recreation Club and Craigsower respectively. In addition two Cricket Club men were dismissed for one run each, and another two for two each!

The Shanghai Ladies hockey team gave a most impressive display against the Y. Ladies last Saturday when they held the Champions of the Caer Clark Cup to a goalless draw. The Northerners were one short and Miss Ina Buchanan, of the Y. Ladies and formerly of the C.B.A. Ladies, filled in the breach at inside-left. Outstanding feature of the game was the rock-like defence of the Shanghai team with Miss P. Pettigrew and Miss Esther Bloomfield towers of strength, the latter doing exceptionally good work in the pivotal position. The goalkeeper, Miss G. Ephgrave, was very safe. On one occasion she literally lifted the ball from Mrs. Sybil Gardiner's stick when the Y. forward had only the custodian to beat.

The Y. Ladies' attack failed to impress. Miss Marie Smith, the Interporter, was a notable absentee. Combination was lacking altogether. Miss M. Westcott did good work on the left wing where her amazing bursts of speed gave the Shanghai defenders something to think about. Miss Anne Fowler played her usual safe game at full back and in the second half saved a certain goal when Debbie Bloomfield broke through on her own.

The St. Andrew's Club Ladies junior team, composed mainly of D.G.S. players, did very well to beat the Recreio Ladies. It was good to see Miss A. Alves, of the latter team, make a return to active hockey. Another interesting match on Saturday was that be-

"WHITHER FINANCIAL CHINA?"

have been arranged for the economic reconstruction of China. And an agreement was also reported to have been reached with the United States for the exchange of the Chinese silver into gold, thereby strengthening China's external currency reserve against possible contingencies.

REFORM INTERRUPTED

It is not my intention in the enumeration of these events to pay an unjustifiably high tribute to the Chinese Government in their efforts towards financial reconstruction, nor to paint a picture of financial progress to appear unduly rosy or promising to the distortion of facts. All that I am attempting to do is to show conclusively the earnest and sincere intention of the Chinese Government in putting through a programme of financial reconstruction. They meant and were prepared to set their financial house in order. With the currency stabilized, domestic credit rebated and external credit restored to a higher standing, everything appeared bright and full of promise—perhaps too promising for the liking of the Japanese—then the first shot was fired at Lukowchiao.

Nearly four months have now elapsed since the hostilities started in North China. Events took a rapid turn toward confusion and disappointment. Yet, on a cooler analysis, it is gratifying to note that despite the emergency conditions brought about by the war essential principles of financial integrity have been resolutely adhered to, and financial conditions are in the main sound.

INCREASED EXPENDITURE

Faced as it is by the enormously increased military expenditures and at the same time embarrassed by the dwindling sources of revenue, the state of public finances cannot obviously be as satisfactory as we would like it to be. There are only two or possibly three ways to finance a war: to tax and to borrow or to inflate. The last method while apparently efficient is inherently dangerous.

No modern war has been or can ever be financed by the exclusive reliance on taxation. Financial statesmanship requires not a choice of the one as against the other, but a balanced proportion of both. We have increased certain forms of taxation and we have also borrowed to the limited extent of five hundred million dollars through the flotation of the Liberty Bonds which are being rapidly subscribed. But, we have not resorted to the irresponsible method of inflation. The remarkable stability of our foreign exchanges provides a concrete proof.

EXCHANGE STEADY

True, the forward exchange has been quoted at a discount, but the quotations for spot exchange have remained practically unchanged. Since stability of exchange tends to symbolize financial strength and to inspire public confidence, the authorities are absolutely right in doing everything that lies within their power to assist towards its continued maintenance.

FOREIGN OBLIGATION

It was perhaps prompted by the same consideration that the services on foreign obligation have so far been maintained, notwithstanding the drastic decline in the Customs Revenue against which most of these foreign obligations are secured. In the face of the ruthless Japanese invasion, ample justification may be found for declaring a moratorium on these services. This course of action has also been carefully avoided so as not to undermine public confidence.

LOOKING AHEAD

Our credit standing abroad has been upheld at all costs, not necessarily for the financing of the present war but to facilitate the financing of the post-war reconstruction. A nation which is engaged in the most desperate struggle for its very existence and yet is doing everything in its power to preserve its credit and to uphold the public confidence cannot easily be led into the path of recklessness and irresponsibility.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS

A little over a year ago, in commenting upon the future of the new monetary system of China, I came to the conclusion that the prospect of the new currency may be considerably darkened by the political uncertainties in the situation. Taking the economic and financial factors into consideration, however, and provided the new Reserve Bank is soon established and the National Budget balanced, there are reasons to expect a successful operation of the managed currency along recognized principles of monetary control. My close observation of the Chinese financial developments in the past few years as well as of the recent financial policies of the Government gives me reasons to expect a continued observance of the fundamental principles of sound finance and a continued maintenance of stable currency and sound credit. And it is my desire to convey to you, gentlemen, a part of my firm belief in the financial future of my country. (Applause).

Look at Your Skin

Skin Specialists declare that 80 out of every 100 women suffer from skin outbreaks, spots, pimples, blotches, and "muddy" complexions UNNECESSARILY!

Ugly complexion faults are woman's most common enemy. Few escape. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them. Whilst others, due to consistent wrong treatment, cause the skin to become highly sensitive, coarse and blemished.

To make your skin clear and healthy, your complexion fresh and smooth, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects. And to rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Try Cuticura to-day. See how soon your skin improves, your complexion becomes smoother, more attractive than ever before.

SPIRIT OF THE SEA

THE DUKE OF KENT ON ADVENTURE

Discovery As Training Ship

The Duke of Kent, as Commodore of Sea Scouts and Deep Sea Scouts, recently received on behalf of the Boy Scouts Association the Royal Research Ship Discovery, now lying moored in the Thames at Temple Steps, Victoria Embankment.

Mr. Ormsby-Gore, M.P., Secretary of State for the Colonies, who opened the proceedings, said that it would be difficult to find a ceremony that would more deeply stir the imagination than that of the taking over of the Royal Research Ship Discovery on behalf of the Boy Scouts Association, to which she had been presented by the Government of the Falkland Islands. Towards the end of last year the Discovery Committee proposed to him that the Government of the Falkland Islands, in whose ownership the ship remained, should be asked to present the Discovery to the Boy Scouts Association to serve as a training ship for Sea Scouts and as a memorial to Captain Scott and all those who in her had played their part in the work of Antarctic exploration.

He welcomed the suggestion, and the Government of the Colony gladly responded to the invitation. The association had received generous assistance from Lady Houston and the Pilgrim Trust towards the cost of the vessel's maintenance and endowment. "So here now she lies," Mr. Ormsby-Gore added, "home from the sea, moored in the heart of London, and with many long years of service still to come; keeping alive for all of us, and especially for those of the rising generation who will receive their training in her, a tradition of great adventure and gallant comradeship."

The ship was formally handed over by Sir Herbert Henniker-Heaton, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Falkland Islands.

"SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE"

The Duke of Kent, in accepting the ship, said he did not feel it necessary to go into the details of her history, but he would lay stress on the very fine tradition which he bore. "If I were of an age to be trained on board," he continued, "I know that I should feel not only very thrilled, but somewhat overawed at being so closely associated with the Discovery."

"The spirit of adventure is an outstanding characteristic of Englishmen, and I am sure there is nobody in the country who has not at some time or another felt the urge to go off to the wilds and find some place, or see some thing, that nobody has ever seen before. I am ever more certain that there are very few people who have not heard of what the Discovery, and followed in detail her wonderful voyages. Many of them have had a secret longing to have sailed with her. I think, too, that many of them will have envied those who have been privileged to serve on board."

"This feeling has built up a tradition which is worthy of the highest principles of the Scout movement, and I am sure that there could be no more fitting place around which the future activities of the Sea Scouts might be centred. I am certain that the members of the Antarctic Club, and particularly those five members of the first voyage who are with us, must look upon our ceremony with mixed feelings. It must be a sad moment for them to think that their old ship will no longer sail to the far corners of the earth. On the other hand, it must be a great satisfaction to know that she should now be in the hands of so fine an association as the Boy Scout movement."

"Sir Herbert, as Commodore of the Sea Scouts and the Deep Sea Scouts, I am very glad to be able to accept the most generous gift that the Government of the Falkland Islands has made to the Boy Scouts, and I take much pleasure in accepting the Discovery on their behalf."

After a brief service, conducted by the Rev. Leonard Spiller, Chaplain to the ship, Discovery was welcomed to her new berth and voyage by Captain A. H. Armitage, of the Antarctic Club, who was her second in command on her first voyage; and Commander E. C. Shankland, R.N.R., River Superintendent and Chief Harbour Master of the Port of London Authority.

GAVE AWAY £5 NOTES

Because His Horse Won

Mr. Walter Hutchinson, wealthy fifty-year-old head of a famous publishing house, gave away five-pound notes after his horse had won a race at Alexandra Park recently.

The horse, Broad Oaks, was bought for £35 by Mr. Hutchinson when it was a two-year-old. It won the Autumn Cup as a 100 to 7 outsider.

As racegoers were congratulating the owner, he pulled out his wallet and said "Here, have a £5 note."

Crowds swarmed round him, and he soon emptied his wallet.

A friend of Mr. Hutchinson said that often, after he won a race, he would give pound notes to unlucky backers. "He is a very generous man," added the friend. "After a dinner which has pleased him he will sometimes give a £5 tip to the waiter."

CHIEF SCOUT'S SPEECH

Lord Baden-Powell, the Chief Scout, said it was a great day for the Scouts. First, because it was the birthday of his Royal Highness's eldest son, to whom they wished a long and happy life; and, secondly, because it was just a year and a day since the ship had been offered to them. Among the many donors, in addition to Lady Houston, who had helped them were the Pilgrim Trust, which had built the bridge from the shore to the ship—they were calling it "The Pilgrim Bridge," in recognition of their help—and the King George V Jubilee Trust.

As regards the memorial purpose of the ship, a museum had been fitted out, and they had already accumulated a small collection of interesting relics and hoped to increase it very largely. The public would then be admitted on some four days a week.

On the training side, in addition to forming the headquarters of about 20 troops of Sea Scouts, the ship would serve as a hostel where they could put up a good number not only of Sea Scouts but of Deep Sea Scouts as well. For the latter it would be a rendezvous where they could meet each other and at the same time give some of the seafaring spirit to the boys. That would be of good service to the boys now that England was coming into her own again as a sea Power.

The interest that many societies had shown in their venture made them feel that they were on the right road to make the ship a centre for the spirit of the sea.

They also had to thank the Zoo, which had presented them with a husky dog—a real husky, used to drawing sledges—to come and live on board.

A WONDERFUL TRADITION

In spite of what the Duke of Kent had said, they felt that in these days of over-civilization the spirit of adventure was being killed by such slogans as "Safety First." But they hoped that the wonderful tradition and historical example of the ship would inspire many generations of boys with a high spirit of adventure, courage, loyalty, and self-sacrifice in service.

On his arrival on the Embankment, opposite the ship, the Duke of Kent was received by the Chief Scout. On board he was welcomed by Lord Somers, Deputy Chief Scout, Lord Hampton, Chief Commissioner, Boy Scouts' Association, and Admiral A. V. Campbell, Headquarters Commissioner for Sea Scouts and Deep Sea Scouts.

The bridge from the shore to the ship's gangway was lined by boys from over 13 local troops of Sea Scouts. Other Sea Scouts lined the rails of the ship while the ceremony was taking place. The ship was decorated with flags, and the Duke of Kent's special standard as Commodore was broken at the mainmast head when he stepped on board.

The guests on board included—in addition to Captain M. Barne, Lieut-Commander L. C. Bernacchi, Lieut-Comdr. F. E. Dailley, Mr. W. Lashley, and Mr. J. J. Miller (a member of the present maintenance crew), all of whom had served in the ship—many who are famous for their work in the Arctic or Antarctic. Among others were—

Mr. James W. B. Marr ("Scout Marr" of Sir Ernest Shackleton's 1922 expedition, who sailed in the Quest when he was a patrol leader of the 1st Aberdeen Group), Capt.

YELLOW FEVER MENACE

Threat From Air Routes

Sir Malcolm Watson, director of the Ross Institute of tropical medicine, who startled the world of medicine some years ago with his statement that there was a danger of yellow fever spreading from Africa into India and Asia through air transport, declared that that danger is still a real one to-day, when he was interviewed in Penang recently.

He is making a tour of Malaya and inspecting the health service of the country, with special attention to anti-malarial work, in the pioneering of which in this country he himself played so prominent a part.

Even London, said Sir Malcolm, was not free from the threat of yellow fever, for an infected patient might get from Africa to England by air, before the disease began to show.

There was reason to believe, however, that the methods of counteracting the threat would be successful. Experiments were going on all the time.

R. G. England, Mr. Apeley Cherry-Garrard, Mr. E. M. Joyce, Lady Kennet and her son; Mr. G. Marton, Professor H. Balfour (president of the Royal Geographical Society), Captain Sir David Wilson Barker (of the Royal United Service Institution), Sir William Bragg (president of the Royal Society), Sir Robert Burton Chadwick (Master of the Company of Master Mariners), Lord Dufferin and Ava and Rear-Admiral J. A. Edgell (Colonial Office Discovery Committee), Mr. R. E. W. Flower (Deputy Keeper of Manuscripts, British Museum), Captain J. F. Hemsted (captain of H.M.S. President), Mr. Arthur Howard (Mayor of Westminster), and many members of the Antarctic Club, representatives of the Falkland Islands, the Colonial Office Discovery Committee, and the Boy Scouts Association.

The Gillette No. 77 Set illustrated here, which contains the latest Gillette razor, three Blue Gillette slotted blades and two blade holders in a new type of moulded box, has these definite advantages.

The razor is made in two pieces instead of three, as formerly, thus making it easier and quicker to clean, assemble and use.

The blades are made by the new electrical-tempering process. They give not only closer, cleaner shaves than you have ever had before, but also more shaves per blade.

The case is ideal for hot and humid climates as it is so easy to keep clean.

Ask your dealer to show you a No. 77 Set—one of the most popular that Gillette have ever made.

MANUFACTURE OF TYRES DOWN

New York, Nov. 2.
The "Wall Street Journal" says that the production of tyres has been curtailed throughout the country as a result of the increase in inventories in September, together with the seasonal decline in October business and the beginning of the dull season.

Trade sources estimate that inventories in September moved up to nearly 12,000,000 casings from about 11,250,000 on August 31.

TRADE SHOW IN HAIPHONG

Invitation To Local Manufacturers

The ordinary monthly meeting of the Hong Kong Chinese Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday, with the Chairman, Mr. Li Singkul, presiding.

The minutes of the previous meeting as well as the accounts for the month of October were read and confirmed.

The Secretary notified the meeting of the receipt of an invitation to Chinese manufacturers to participate in the Trade Exhibition to be held at Haiphong, which will open on December 18 and continue till January 2 next. It was stated that goods would be admitted free without payment of customs duty until goods had been sold.

The Chairman proposed, and Mr.
Lau King-ching seconded, that members should be circulated on this matter and suitable publicity given to it in the press.

This concluded the business of the meeting.

SHANGHAI ORPHANS

Buy Liberty Bonds

Twenty-seven staunchly patriotic kiddies are helping to help their beloved China. The 27 kiddies, both boys and girls, are inmates of the Sic-cawei Orphanage on the outskirts of the French Concession.

When Chinese Government Liberty Bonds were offered for sale to the public, the young charges were told about them by the kindly sisters who conduct the institution. When the children learned that every dollar derived from the sale of Liberty Bonds is a dollar loaned to the Government, a dollar to be used to help the country in its struggle against a grim oppressor, they became anxious to do their share.

For the benefit of those who do not know, the authorities of the orphanage have a system whereby the inmates are enabled to earn small sums of money, chiefly through the sale of useful household articles made by the children.
The children are in each instance encouraged to save their earnings against the time when they will quit the orphanage.

Twenty-seven kiddies pooled their savings, the total being $97.
The kindly sisters, pleased over the display of patriotism, donated an additional $3 dollars and with the entire sum purchased a $100 Liberty Bond, which will be held in trust for the subscribers.

Touched by the act of the unfortunate orphans, Mr. Lee Sangyu, well-to-do rice merchant who was himself an orphan at the age of seven years, purchased two more $100 bonds and donated them to the children. Mr. Lee, incidentally, has subscribed to the bond issue to the extent of more than $300.00.

GERMAN BREWERIES

To Pay £3,000,000 To Stabilise Price Of Bread

Breweries are to contribute 34,000,000 marks (about £3,000,- 000) during the new harvest year to help stabilise the price of bread in Germany.

This money will be raised by a surtax on barley, based on the breweries' annual consumption of grain and on their output of beer.

In pursuing its policy of self-sufficiency the German Government is anxious to prevent a rise in the price of bread, which the workman cannot afford to pay, while at the same time protecting the interests of farmers.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER

A Japanese View

On his way back to Japan from Europe where he examined German progress in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, Mr. Inouye, a director of the Showa Rubber Co., with estates in Johore, arrived in Singapore recently.

"I think that producers of natural rubber should not dismiss from their minds the possibilities of synthetic rubber. In the future it may seriously affect our market," said Mr. Inouye.

He added that synthetic rubber which he saw in Germany was still too dear, one pound cost about eight marks. One variety was made from coal and charcoal.

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

MURILLO INVESTMENTS has signed an operating agreement with the Royal Goldfields, Inc. It was learned from the office of the former, Murillo Investments will install machinery at the Rosario, La Union, property of Royal Goldfields for its development. Mr. Murillo with the help of a competent mining engineer will direct and supervise the installation.

SUYOC BAUKO MINING Company is considering the purchase of a motor boat which will be used for towing the company's manganese ore from the mines to the seashore where it will be loaded. A.
Gorospa Reyes, secretary-treasurer,
announced recently.

Mr. Gorospa Reyes told the Buletin that the board of directors will hold a meeting on the 19th of this month to discuss plans for the further development of the property with a view to putting it on a steady production basis. During the meeting the board of directors will also decide to engage the services of Bernardo Cuesta, to take charge of the development work.

The management is making plans to start the development of the company's property in Bonocan, Sta. Cruz, Zambales, as soon as possible. Ralph G. Hawkins, general manager, is now on the property rushing the work so to prepare 3,000 tons of manganese for shipment at the end of the year.

ORIENTAL MANGANESE Mines,
Inc., announced last week that first shipment of its manganese ore will be made within three months.
The corporation has manganese
ore at present on its Mayantoc, Tarlac, property which will be sent to Japan. The Taihei Kogyo Kabushiki Kaisha is negotiating for the purchase of the ore.

TRANSPORT DEVELOPMENTS IN GREECE

A Supplementary Concession recently signed between the Hellenic Government and Messrs. The English Electric Transport Company in Athens, terminates protracted negotiations, and will result in the reorganisation of the communications between Athens-Piræus and the suburbs of both cities. The existing electric railway between Piræus and Athens, is to be extended to Kefissia, a distance of about 14 km., by a double line, on the 600-volt direct-current system, and intermediate stations will be built at Alysia, Nea Ionia, Heracleia and Amaroussi. The new stations will consist of two-reinforced concrete platforms, each 70
m. long by 4 m. wide and 1.05 m.
high, provided with shelters for a length of 30 m. and connected by overhead bridges at least 2 m. wide. There will be no level crossings, and the entire length of the line will be fenced in.

The new rolling stock is to consist of at least eight trains, each composed of two articulated coaches, fitted for direct-current traction, and with air, electric and hand brakes. It is intended to maintain a minimum schedule speed of 30 km. per hour inclusive of stoppages at stations. Each double unit will have a capacity of about 200 passengers, in first and third-class compartments.

FOOTBRIDGES
In order to facilitate a road-crossing at Alysia, the existing roadway will be lowered by about 2.50 m. Any necessary footbridges across other parts of the electric line will be erected by the Hellenic Government, who will also effect the requisite appropriations of property, amounting to about 48,000 sq. m. and will compensate the owners. The works are to be completed within two years from the date of commencement, and the company will pay the Hellenic Government the sum of Drs.

21,000,000 towards defraying the cost of constructing footbridges and underground road crossings.

Electric tramway extensions of 680 m. in Athens and 900 m. in Piræus, will also be constructed and two electric trolley bus services between Piræus and New Phaleron, will replace the existing tram services, along asphalted roads, which will be constructed and maintained by the State. New motor bus services are also to be established between Athens and the suburbs of Psychiko, New Smyrna and Old Phaleron, to which the existing electric tramway services may be discontinued at the option of the company, who will also inaugurate a motor bus service between Old Phaleron and Piræus. The company is to provide 50 new motor buses, fitted with heavy oil engines and also 60 new electric tramcars.

Messrs. The English Electric Transport Company will raise the necessary capital by the issue of sterling shares, which will rank after those previously issued, bearing a maximum interest of 6 per cent. and redeemable in twenty-two years from July 1, 1940.

PROBLEM OF CHINA

Marked Lack Of Financial Means

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Singapore Rotary Club recently, Dr. C. L. Park, the Director of the League of Nations Eastern Health Bureau, gave a very interesting address on the recent Hygiene Conference in Java, in the course of which he vividly described the proceedings and dealt at some length with each of the subjects which came up for discussion.

Dr. Park, referring to China,
said:

China being an agricultural country with a large population of which the purchasing power of the individual is low, it has been necessary to consider carefully the most suitable system of medical service.
It is stated that the average family of a Chinese farmer is six people and that there are usually in a village 100 to 150 families.

The per-capita income of a farmer is estimated at less than forty dollars (Mex.) a year. Rural surveys tend to show that each family spends about $1.50 (Mex.)
a year for medical services, i.e., approximately 30 cents per head per annum.

Any constructive effort, therefore, is faced by a marked lack of financial means to carry it out as well as centuries of social habits, attitudes and practices.

To put it briefly, the improvement of health is not merely a State application of medical science, but it is intimately related to a drastic transformation of the general civilisation.

Private practice for economic reasons is impossible in China, and the National Health Administration of the Central Government

CUTTING UP WHALES

Gas-Masks Supplied To Workmen

Gas-masks have been supplied to workmen cutting up two large whales which were washed ashore
recently near Dunkirk.

The whales were first offered for sale by auction, but no one bid beyond the reserve price.
Now an industrialist from Douai has bought the whales. He has engaged men to cut up the carcasses, on the spot, in order to obtain the valuable oil, bone and ambergris.

Owing to the length of time
the whales have been lying dead on the beach, they are now in a state of decomposition. The workmen demand to be supplied with gas-masks before they would undertake the work.

The cutting up of the whales is slow work as it can only be carried out at low tide.

has declared State medicine to be its final objective.

An example of rural health work is recorded from Tingsien, where rural life was examined from different points of view and a form of medical organisation worked out. This system takes as the unit of application a county of half a million people and provides three stages from the village to the county.

In the village there is a lay worker who has received ten days'
training in health propaganda,
birth and death registration, small-pox vaccination and first aid. He continues his farming occupation, and makes no charge for his services, but at the end of the year receives a bonus, the size of which depends on the result of his work.
